Divas at the Ballet

Last December, twenty (20) members of Troop 270 from Richmond County, Virginia were treated to a day of red carpet, limos, and the ballet.

The troop was first place winner in the council's annual 2008 Fall Nut Sale Program. The girls excelled in their efforts to reach set goals in the program and were treated to a day of pampering. The girls along with their leader Gail Ramsey and other adult leaders spent the day in Richmond being chauffeured by limo to lunch and then to see The Nutcracker.

Girl Scouting builds girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place. In its annual Fall Nut Sale, the Council teaches girls goal setting, time management, organization and communication skills. Kristina Ramsey of Troop 270 said about her Nut Sale experience, "I have learned that when you work hard and have a dream, anything is possible." Through the Fall Nut Sale Girl Scouts learn valuable lessons to help achieve their future dreams and provide girls with tools to better their role as citizens and future leaders.

Also from Richmond County was Troop 710 led by Patti Johnson, LeVernia Greene, and Leigh Packett who took third place and were awarded T-Shirts for their hard work.

Girl Scout Commonwealth Council serves 18,000 girls in 30 counties and six cities in Central Virginia.
